

Toga's vision

TOGA creates places where community and connection thrive, neighbours become friends, and the essence of a close neighbourhood envelopes your everyday life. Find your place at Macquarie Rise. Step out of your sanctuary and discover community gardens, green spaces, restaurants, bars, and a dedicated play area for the little ones on the carefully curated ground floor.

TOGA believes in creating meaningful spaces for life, building places that bring joy, enhance living and elevate experiences – to enrich our communities and the lives of our residents. Going beyond best practices in design and construction, TOGA's considered approach to developing and building puts its people at the heart of the process.

TOGA returns to create the next great place

Love this place

TOGA has been shaping quality homes in Australia since 1963. From stunning residential apartments in the Eastern Suburbs, to exceptional mixed-use precincts and world-class retail and hospitality – we take architecture, interior design, landscaping and lifestyle to new dimensions. Every step is meticulously considered, throughout design, construction and delivery.

With 60 years experience as a developer and builder, we proudly drive urban regeneration so that it can be enjoyed by future generations. Our developments acknowledge what came before, while bringing neighbourhoods and local streetscapes to life.

Following the creation of 120 Macquarie, Macquarie Central and Macquarie Green, TOGA returns to Macquarie Park to create a new benchmark project. It's time to reach peak living at Macquarie Rise.

“We’ve been in this business for 60 years and we take great care in what we do. We have very rigorous processes. If there are any issues, we go back and fix them and we have a reputation after so many years as a developer who can be trusted. People are spending a lot of money on apartments and making big decisions and there’s more and more acknowledgement now that the rating system is there to make sure things can’t go horribly wrong.”
